Mary Rowe	Capere, Andrea K.	I have known Andrea since 2006 when I was her supervisor at SBUX. One of the things I admired about Andrea was her empathy and compassion for others. When you work food service or retail there's often some downtime that provides opportunity to get to know your team. Andrea was an amazing communicator but an equally good listener. She was willing to share her life experiences in order to understand others and to collaborate effectively. She was someone that her team could count on. I have no doubt that Andrea would be an engaged and productive member of the council. She has a heart for her community and is willing to research, investigate, analyze perspectives and data to help gain solutions. I encourage you to chose Andrea as part of your team.
Jonah Barrett	Capere, Andrea K.	Capere prioritizes environmental policies and anti-poverty measures!
Ben	Capere, Andrea K.	She great
Daniel Christensen	Capere, Andrea K.	I've had the great pleasure of both knowing Andrea as a friend and working with her as a professional. In both arenas, I have always been struck by her generosity, her depth of knowledge, and her genuine care for her community. She may downplay her experience, but I believe she would be a great addition to the city council.
Mattice Hoyt	Capere, Andrea K.	She has been at alot of community events and forums to actually LISTEN and hear the concerns from the people of Tacoma. During her initial interview she mentioned more issues that plague our city than any other candidate and I believe she had realistic plans during her longer interview on Monday.
Lor'en Ethardt	Capere, Andrea K.	I found that Andrea's responses to the Council's questions to be very reasonable. In particular, I'm thinking of the reply about running for the office in '23, if appointed. I thought that her comment about doing the job to gain the skills it'll take to run is spot-on. There is nothing quite like doing the job and building confidence in the role. I think Andrea Capere would he an excellent choice for the position.
Aaron Jones	Capere, Andrea K.	Andrea seems like she has a good grasp on the housing crisis and how it effects the varied people of Tacoma.
Kate McCue	Capere, Andrea K.	Andrea is a very people first candidate and I think she would make a great addition to the council. She understands what it takes to be a part of a Community.
Nicole Plastino	Capere, Andrea K.	Yes!!!
Sarah Randolph	Capere, Andrea K.	Andrea Capere is one of my top 3 candidates for this position. She has a great sense of humility, and also a great feeling of pride for Tacoma. I agree with her position on 'housing first' to help our unhoused neighbors. I also agree that the use of 34% of our city's budget on police is questionable. We need officers to respond to crime, but police can only react to situations, rather than addressing the causes of crime in the first place. I really appreciate her frank statement on race and acknowledgement of being the only white candidate competing with 5 people of color for a job. This acknowledgement of the awkward position of whiteness in a time of racial reckoning is a welcome voice where white folk are often reluctant to acknowledge their own privilege in our unjust system. Privilege that Andrea has, despite her impoverished upbringing. I see her as a great asset to our city. My other top three candidates are Carlos Lugo-Gonzales and Sara Irish.
Robert Neal	Capere, Andrea K.	From the late afternoon distribution of your questions to her alphabetical first-up interview, Andrea Capere thoughtfully and completely answered all six questions posed to your six finalists with the least amount of time to prepare. While everyone on the expanded list made very strong and compelling presentations (notably Lugo-Gonzales and Dias) Andrea Capere remains a fresh perspective and a solid choice to confront the diverse issues facing our city and collaborate on consensus solutions.

His experience with the refugee community is as much the story of Tacoma as anybody here. His talent as an artist, his passion for local events and local business, his skin in the game with kids coming of age in our neighborhood. These all give him a unique ability to serve. Finally, he's a great guy with grounded views, kindness, professionalism, creativity and that smile. This is who I would want representing my family, my school and my generation in our government.
Don Grey	Chhun, Silong	Silong is one of the best people I have ever met. Van Phane	Chhun, Silong	I admire the fact that he is a long time resident of Tacoma and seen it all. He hears the communities voices from all walks of life and wants to see the community thrive. Silong sees the struggles but he also sees the beauty of the city he was raised in. He is always Tacoma Proud.I have seen him collaborate with not just Tacoma residents but also surrounding areas. I know he will be a great Councilman. I hope that you will move him forward to the step and to the finish line.

Sally Cheng Mohr	Chhun, Silong	The public and I have had ample opportunities in the past few weeks to analyze the aims and objectives of the various candidates in the upcoming vacancy appointment. Silong Chhun's authentic and practical approach sets him apart from the other candidates. Mr. Chhun has shown great concern for the residents of the community, and his willingness to listen to people's problems and the efforts he puts forth afterwards are commendable. This is evident in his thoughtful approach and use of language regarding ALL citizens of Tacoma; how he show up in his day job; his numerous community advocacy work; and, how Silong interacts and engages with those around him. I truly believe Mr. Chhun strives to lift those around him up, 'all day, in any way' possible. I am grateful and hopeful to see his continued success in fostering inclusivity in and for Tacoma, supporting all citizens of the communities, and elevating the voices of those who may otherwise not be heard. Julie Davidson	Diaz, Olgy	I first met Olgy in the summer of 2008 when she was a shift lead for my home district's Obama campaign phone banking effort. Even as a young organizer of 20-something, Olgy impressed me with her clear communication, outstanding commitment to getting a diverse range of community members involved, strong organizational and interpersonal skills, and engaging manner of sincerely supporting each volunteer who walked through the doors. Fast-forward to her more recent involvements in statewide service as a legislative staffer, nonprofit policy advisor, and continued community organizer and all of the same sentiments I formed in my initial work with Olgy have remained true (and been strengthened as her leadership trajectory grows). I write to express my strong recommendation for Olgy to be placed in the vacant council position, as she will work tirelessly to represent every constituent with humility, great commitment and a boundless heart for public service. I am particularly keen on her ability to represent our community's growing Latinx population and to bring a perspective informed and shaped by her own family's immigration and acculturation experiences in the Pacific Northwest.

Osta Davis	Diaz, Olgy	I'm writing to strongly recommend Olgy Diaz's appointment to the Tacoma City Council. After listening to the finalist interviews, it became clear that Olgy is the finalist with the greatest breadth of knowledge on a diversity of issue areas best suited for the role of city councilmember. Having spent years working at Planned Parenthood, Olgy is the applicant I best trust to protect access to reproductive justice. Additionally, Olgy has experience lifting up working people. This is seen through her support of labor and creating good union jobs as well as her work in Legislature focusing on TANF and providing support to families most in need. Olgy understands intricacies of housing policy through her work at Forterra and has been a voice for immigrants in her role at OneAmerica. The choice is clear. Olgy is the only finalist who could make a positive impact on the council starting on day one. She is the only applicant who understands the strategic vision of the City having served on the Human Rights Commission during the development of the Tacoma 2025 plan. Because of her deep roots in Tacoma and decades worth of advocating for folks who deserve a voice, Olgy is the best person to fill the vacancy on the Tacoma City Council.

Kiana Scott and Emily Wicks On behalf of the National Women's Political Caucus of Washington	Diaz, Olgy	Dear Selection Committee, The National Women's Political Caucus of Washington is proud to endorse and support Olgy Diaz in her bid to be appointed to the Tacoma City Council. We, a group of passionate advocates for policies and leaders who support women and families from across Washington State, believe that Olgy brings the professional and lived experience, policy and governing acumen, and progress-focused approach to make meaningful change on behalf of all residents of Tacoma. We could not be more enthusiastic about the opportunity for her to bring her leadership to this role. Olgy has served as our president since 2021, but her policymaking background, experience navigating complex political environments to advance goals, ability to build partnerships across partisan divides, and skills in communicating legislative priorities to constituents and stakeholders means we would be proud to support her regardless of her affiliation with our organization. Olgy will be a passionate, influential, informed member of the Council that will serve Tacoma and her residents well. As an organization dedicated to advancing reproductive justice, we also know Olgy brings the innovation to advance policies at the city level that make healthcare and reproductive justice available to anyone in need. She is a firm believer in the impact of city government, particularly at a time when so many are losing faith in national leaders and institutions. She will continue to be a champion for these issues at the city level. We are proud to support Olgy in this effort and are happy to answer any questions the committee may have as you consider this appointment.
Nicholas Carr	Diaz, Olgy	Positive and enthusiastic support.
Jeannine Mitchell	Diaz, Olgy	The feedback I'd like to share about Olgy Diaz: I have known and worked with Ms Diaz more years than I can remember. Olgy is one of those people that never shy's away from a job or a problem. She has the ability to discuss any problem with calm and inelgance. While never making you feel spoken down too. And because of her many experiences working in Tacoma, Pierce County and Olympia, I truly feel, Olgy will be an amazing addition to our wonderful City Council. Thank you so much for your consideration. Jeannie
Alexis Oliver Turla	Diaz, Olgy	Hello Tacoma City Council members, I am enthusiastically writing in support of Olgy Diaz appointment to the Tacoma City Council. I came to know Olgy through the National Women's Political Caucus of Washington (NWPC-WA). Through our partnership training women of color to run for office, I learned about Olgy's work ethic, collaboration with style, and equitable problem solving that would be invaluable to the council. Work Ethic I am so humbled to have met someone that values a can do spirit and approach to every role in life. Olgy is an excellent thought partner to strategize and co-create without ego. She was principle in imagining our women of color candidate training, bringing in and listening to other community voices to help shape the training model. Part of the success to 7 cohorts and hundreds of women of color trained in WA state is Olgy Diaz. Collaborative Style There are few people that can garner the confidence and support from different communities and interests. Olgy is that person. She can engage various levels of government, tribal communities, and community organizations due to her collaborative style. I know that this term is over utilized but Olgy has the receipts to show for it. The council would benefit from her collaborative, collegial style to solving some of the most difficult policy issues of our time. Equitable policy and problem solving In every professional space, Olgy has centered equity in her work without alienating her colleagues. This, however, doesn't mean that she hides away from hard issues. Just the opposite. She has addressed hard issues such as organizing folks to stand against sexual assault to addressing the legal loss to body autonomy. You can count on Olgy to jump in on day 1 to address once in a generation issues. Thank you for the opportunity to write about my friend. I look forward to Olgy Diaz as your next colleague on the Tacoma City Council.
My-Le Tang	Diaz, Olgy	Hello, I am sending this in support of Olgy Diaz for the Tacoma City Council seat. Olgy has a deep understanding and a sustained history of engagement in Tacoma. Sean strickland	Lugo-Gonzalez, Carlos D.	He was the most competent candidate with the most direct experience.
James stinton	Lugo-Gonzalez, Carlos D.	Best choice by far
Mary canterfield	Lugo-Gonzalez, Carlos D.	The least offensive

Kimber Starr	Lugo-Gonzalez, Carlos D.	I wholehearted support for Carlos Lugo's appointment to the Tacoma City Council's vacant position. I have collaborated on multiple projects with Carlos over the past 14 years. I know him to be a pragmatic leader, a problem solver, a systems thinker, and someone who knows how to advance important priorities by bringing people together around shared values. Carlos is a collaborative leader with the skills, the mindset and the grit that our city needs. Our growing public safety crisis touches every part of our city's systems. We need big systems-level changes to equitably address these challenges. Carlos is the collaborative policy wonk / team member this council needs.

Dr. Fredrick E Powell	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I almost picked Ms Tisha Marie Wosencroft the first time, but I didn't because I looked at tenure/years of service to the city of Tacoma vs someone I don't know until her impressive interview where she showed focus, compassion, love, and a positive tenacity to help make our city a better place.. After reviewing the video footage I can say the council is very diversified still, but after I seen this candidate speak with passion, devotion, and determination to the point where she cannot truly be ignored. This person shows commitment, and I believe dedication if appointed where she is not here just for a extra paycheck. This potential candidate wants to roll up her sleeves, and burn the midnight oil to help solve our major issues in our city with all of you in a mutual consensus way by the way of the majority vote, which we know has been discussed nationwide for many years. Ms. Wosencroft has, that voice, which can command a audience, and with the backgrounds she possess, and what she is doing currently in her life will make an incredible impact in the city. of destiny if chosen to serve. I researched this candidate, and being on the police chief advisory board does hold lots of weight, but the city will have access to better methodologies regarding our public safety measures from this candidate. In my humble, and professional opinion we already have a Laos representation who is a vet. who once served. We also have one in a reserve/active duty capacity slot who can be reactivated overseas based on her rank. We also already have Caucasian representatives from our fair city who are city workers, teachers, and those who spouse hold legal or judicial influences. We have 2 African American council members who represents anti-racist transformations who are coming from civic, boards, business, and non profit backgrounds as I include, but also exclude the Mayor as a fair an impartial candidate who maintains overall leadership order on the diocese . Ms Wosencroft truly impressed me with her display, and mastery of public speaking, and her passion to me was the most genuine. She did not talk about statistics, analytics, data computations nor metrics, that can be discussed in study sessions or evening meetings. This candidate really talked from the heart concerning all walks of lives, and the damaging impact of our homeless communities, the almost immeasurable impacts of business districts, and different types of communique to bridge all our community problems in terms of goal projections by getting to the heart of the problems, that plagues not only our city, county, and state, but nationwide. I stand firm with my choice where i saw no ego, and I didn't see a candidate looking at people only as numbers nor greed in her eyes to make more money off the constituents where I know she will faithfully serve if only our current elected officials will give her the opportunity to serve the city of destiny. Take care, and good luck candidate Dr. Fredrick E Powell
Tisha Marie	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	There is much work to do for the city of Tacoma, and i trust in our collective abilities to get it done. Because I (or whomever is appointed) would be coming into a council already established with a plan of action and goals for the city, addressing the deficit would require me to first listen the council's ideas and then add to it (agree or disagree but either way bring more). I am familiar with the budget especially after having negotiating the union contracts, and i KNOW there is room for reallocation, and creative solutions. It is not an over night fix. My vote is on me. But i will support and be a resource to whomever is selected just as i have been to this council and our previous council for years.
Community member	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I did not find any substantive material in her interview. In two occasions, she implied that she would not want to address complaints from the community unless it contains a solution. If individuals had solutions for issues, they would not likely seek assistance from the city council. She doesn't seem to have the understanding of the city issues in depth and did not provide any solutions. Her conduct on city council's Facebook website is also short of professional.
Jasmyn D Jefferson	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I am a life long active member of the Tacoma community and give my full support for Tisha Marie to be appointed to council position 7. From the moment I met Tisha 3 years ago, I have believed strongly in her vision and passion for people. I also work with Tisha and have the privilege of experiencing her advocacy first had.

Morgan Reay	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha Marie is a clear choice. Hands down, she has the most experience and is the most equipped to take on a role on the council. Her love for the community is strong and she will truly follow the will of the people. Other applicants did not demonstrate preparation for their speech or could articulate their platform. Her relationship and connections in the community will serve her well. Please appoint Tisha Marie to Position 7.
J. Aarde	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha Marie speaks for the underrepresented groups in a strong way. She is balanced in her ethics and is creative in her approaches. She is strong willed and determined to make a difference.
Holly Tacker	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	This person has an extensive knowledge and passion for our community. This voice and representation is needed within our community.

Maria Lima	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	From the moment we met Tisha has shown through her action, language, and the company she keeps that empowering people is a passion. She has this incredible ability to bring people together who on the outside (based on the biases we all hold towards one another) these people wouldn't gather on their own. I'm talking older white male conservatives, young brown queen people, immigrants, homeless and homeowners, Trump supporters and the "I voted for Obama's". Her voice is powerful and her respect of others is inspiring. If you don't choose her, you'll be doing this city and yourselves a disservice. She is the bridge yall need to restore faith in government.
Brandon Gordon	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha is an intelligent, loving, caring, hardworking, dedicated individual who puts her community first at all times. Tisha has the ability to take the people of Tacoma concerns and bring to those we felt can lead Tacoma. She also can take what you teach her and bring back the information to the community so we can understand and we can work towards the change we all are seeking. It's going to take a village to repair this city and I truly believe Tisha is the person who able to bring together city council and the people of Tacoma. I believe it's time city council and Tacoma residents try work together to get the work done. Tisha is a leader, protector and a peace maker. Select her to build this peace and unity Tacoma desperately needs
Louis Chaney	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha is a extremely hardworking and is willing to do anything positive for her city.
Suzanne Donovan	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	She is competent, passionate and motivated. Her knowledge of her community is vast. She is old enough to know what she can do but young enough to bring the energy that is needed.

There is no doubt that Tisha will not do the same given the opportunity to fill the role for Council Position No. 7. Please continue to consider her for this role, as she always imparts her absolute best in whatever she does!
Elise Kohl-Grant	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	She represents people who don't feel as though they have a voice. She is an activist that will ensure she does everything in her power to represent the people
Ashlye Fagan	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha Wosencroft is loyal with a cause! As one of the founders of Legally Black and real estate agent and seeing her growth from college to now I can tell you she deserves a seat at this table. She will work hard for the community as seen in her activist work, takes time to research and understand information around the issues the community faces and is willing to do what it takes to represent and support those who elect her. I have admired this woman for many reasons in this lifetime but this decision to take on politics is one of the best fits I've seen. The voice she has and the power she holds is the positive kind the kind that people look up to and believe in. As they should she is a force to be reckoned with and she will do whatever it takes to get the job done. Tisha takes her work seriously and those that believe in her will get the opportunity to see that and work closely with her as she fights for Tacoma. Dave Jones	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	Tisha will be a great selection for the appointment to the No.7 vacancy for the Tacoma City Council, as she has a fresh eye and perspective of the city. As a former educator and current resident of Tacoma, I am pleased at the field who raised their hand and the finalists. Tisha is at the top of the list, as she truly is out in the community taking on leadership positions and a public facing figure not afraid to take and accept critical feedback, which I know is a part of this position. Her work with her non-profit and her experience as a realtor helps her in the realm of PR and marketing in my experience is vital when it comes to public service (I worked in Tacoma Schools for 14 years, last two as an assistant principal at Foss). It's for that reason I believe she would make a phenomenal candidate for this seat.

Beverly SMABY	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I did not know about Tisha Marie Wosencroft before listening to the Council's interviews of the six finalists, but on the basis of that, I fervently hope she will be appointed to fill the at large position 7 seat on the Council. She clearly put a lot of thought into her statements and answers to the questions, she showed a history of deep engagement in the problems we have as a city, she demonstrated an ability to see and appreciate different sides of the challenges we face, while at the same time being forthright in how she thought we should focus our efforts, namely on the root causes of injustice and misfortune. I also think she would work with other city council members from a basis of respect and willingness to consider differing views. Given how much effort she put into preparing for the interview, I believe she would work hard as a city council member. I repeat that I hope the Council will choose Tisha Marie Wosencroft to replace outgoing Council member McCarthy.

Angela McKeon	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I would like to take this time to help you understand and know Tisha Wosencroft the way that I have over the past 16 years. I met Tisha sophomore year in college. The moment we met she was advocating for her friend. She drove 3 hours to help her friend who was in a crisis. From this day on I knew that if I ever needed anything Tisha was the person to call. Tisha is highly educated, motivated, consistent, relentlessly hard working, dedicated and persistent. In the years that I have known her she has gone above and beyond for friends, family and strangers alike. Tisha has a way of captivating, motivating and inspiring a crowd. If she sees something wrong she will use her resources to find a solution. If her resources are not capable she will use a collaborative approach with the community to solve issues. Tisha is unique and one of a kind to say the least. She sees and listens to both sides of the argument, understands and respects all perspectives. She has been motivating people for years. She recently created her own social justice platform for her community when the need was recognized. I believe Tisha will excel at the position and bring a perspective that no many people posses. If we could have a person that has half the qualities Tisha possess in every political position this world would be a better place.

Anaid Yerena	Wosencroft, Tisha Marie	I stand in support of Tisha Marie as an individual with an amazing ability to represent others with compassion, dignity, and honor. while we can all agree city council is overdue for Latinx representation, the top two candidates lack the community involvement and commitment needed to represent Latinx communities appropriately and thus is not something one can learn/figure out on the job. Far from it, individuals with limited community connections are further siloed from communities by the responsibilities of the role. It then becomes less genuine and transactional (unless the genuine connections were there FROM BEFORE). Tisha Marie had these connections. She's fostered them through her professional and personal trajectories- as a founder of a non-profit and stellar community advocate. I trust Tisha Marie to continue to grow her connections with our cities communities and in particular with Latinx folx. I'm thankful for the council considering her nomination for this round. Please hear my unwavering support of this nominee.
